In the second exhibit (Plate 24) three south Greenland figures take the place of the family group, which could not be completed in time. They represent the, Eskimo who inhabit Greenland, the shores of northern Labrador, and Hudson Bay adjoining. The figure at the right is that of a young woman of southwestern Greenland, her dress resembling that of a Lapp. Her people have been under instruction of Moravian missionaries for generations. The middle figure represents the native right-hand man of the intrepid whalers, who before the discovery of coal oil ransacked Hudson Bay for oil and baleen. The woman at the left is from Ungava Bay, and is dressed in aboriginal costume of reindeer fur, little modified by outside influences. Her loose, roomy garments correspond...

Reviews

This book is definitely not straightforward to get started on studying but extremely exciting to read. It is really simplistic but shocks in the 50 percent of the ebook. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.
