Ross Browne: On the Mineral Resource of the States and Territories West of the Rocky Mountains Washington, D. C., March 5, 1868. Sir: In the preliminary report which I had the honor to transmit to you from San Francisco in November, 1866, a general summary was given of the mineral resources of the States and Territories west of the Rocky mountains. It was not anticipated by the department that the information required under letter of instructions dated August 2, 1866, could be obtained in full within the brief sufficient data might be collected to furnish a general idea of the rise and progress of the mining interest on the Pacific slope. No official documents in any department of the government contained accurate information on this subject, and it was considered desirable that special attention should be given to the following points: 1. The origin of gold and silver mining on the Pacific coast and present condition of that interest, as tending to show the progress of settlement and civilization. 2. Geological formation...
