Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.THIS work is a brief record of services rendered to England and Scotland by Irish Saints, more than a thousand years ago. Its interest and importance from an historical point of view are very great. Saints lives are the main element in the history of the formation of Christendom, and around their names the battle between faith and unbelief is ever going on. In our own times a complete revolution has taken place in the historical literature of England, to be attributed, in great part, to the Oxford movement which, with its reverence for antiquity, has brought the reign of Hume and Gibbon to an end. In 1852 the leader of that movement gave his services to Ireland, and from the foundation of the Catholic University we may date the emancipation of Irish history from the withering influence of the infidel and Protestant tradition. In 1864 Bishop Moran, then residing at Rome, brought out his Essays on the Early Irish Church. Just six years before that time, in 1860, O Curry, under the inspiration of Cardinal Newman, had electrified the literary world by the publication of his lectures on the Manuscript Materials of Ancient Irish History, and in Mgr. Moran s work, which is a model of erudition and severe criticism, we find the relationship and harmony of the traditions of Rome and Ireland. In a popular style, but with careful adhesion to authority, the present work deals with the historical relations of the Sister Islands in a somewhat similar manner. The roving and settlements of the ancient Scot are difficult to follow until the time when, converted to Christ by St. Patrick, the mother country sent messengers...
